Chili Cook-off/ Euchre Tournament

You don't have to be a member of the Romulus High School Alumni Association to participate in the organization's 6th Annual Chili Cook-off and Euchre Tournament, set for Saturday, February 28, in Rooms 507 and 508 at the High School.

Cook-off participants should bring a pot of chili (made from their favorite mild or spicy recipe; it doesn't have to be anything fancy) to Room 507 by 6:30 p.m. so that judges and other attendees can begin sampling the entries (along with condiments and dessert supplied by the Association). Alumni Association Coordinator Marge Bergman is hoping for lots of entries to make this year's contest really exciting.

The euchre tournament will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Other highlights of the evening will be the awarding of prizes and a 50-50 drawing.

For more information, please call Bergman at 941-0610 (day) or 326-0889 (evening).

Tax Assessor Is Guest on The Mayor's Chair

William Griffin, Tax Assessor for the City of Romulus, will be the special guest on the next edition of The Mayor's Chair, a live call-in program which will air on cable channel 40 on Tuesday, February 17, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. (Note: This particular program deviates from the usual second-Thursday-of-the-month schedule because February 12 is Lincoln's birthday.)

Anyone who wishes to be an audience member must be seated in the Council Chambers at Romulus City Hall no later than 6:15 p.m.; those watching from home can phone in their questions (after 6 p.m.) by calling 942-7571.

If you have an idea or suggestion for a program topic, or would like to serve as a panel member on a future edition of the program, please call Mayor William Oakley's office (942-7572). □

Police To Get Video Cameras for Patrol Cars

Councilman William Crova

Nearly half of Romulus' marked police cars will soon be equipped with a video camera, thanks largely to a grant which has been awarded to the City by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Justice Programs, Bureau of Justice Assistance. The $45,426 Police Block Grant will be supplemented with an additional $5,047 in "matching" funds (approved by the Romulus City Council at its January 5, 1998 meeting) to purchase eight or nine in-car video units. Although the actual bid process has not been completed, it is expected that each unit will cost approximately $5,000.

Romulus Police Chief Charles E. Kirby, who initiated the grant application, believes that the new equipment will be a significant aid to effective law enforcement.

"The eye of the camera is the most objective of witnesses," Kirby explained. "When our officers, wearing wireless microphones, leave their patrol cars, the new equipment will make a video and audio record of what transpires between the officers and the people they interact with."

Councilman William Crova, who supported Councilman LeRoy Burcroff's motion to accept and match the grant money, later stated, "I'm very pleased that Romulus is taking advantage of this great opportunity to protect both its police officers and its citizens. Recording events as they occur will make it easier to clear up any future disputes that may arise."

"Eventually, I would like to see all patrol cars similarly equipped," he added.

According to statute, a Police Block Grant may be used for eight purposes only:

- to hire, train, and employ, on a continuing basis, new, additional law-enforcement officers and necessary personnel;

- to pay overtime to presently employed law-enforcement officers and necessary support personnel for the purpose of increasing the number of hours worked by such personnel;
- to procure equipment, technology, and other material directly related to basic law-enforcement functions;
- to enhance security measures in and around schools and in and around any other facility or location which is considered by the unit of local government to have a special risk for incidents of crime;
- to establish crime-prevention programs which involve cooperation between community residents and law-enforcement personnel in order to control, detect, or investigate crime or prosecute criminals;
- to establish or support drug courts;
- to enhance the adjudication process of cases involving violent offenders, including the adjudication process of cases involving violent juvenile offenders; and/or
- to establish a multijurisdictional task force – particularly in rural areas – composed of law-enforcement officials representing units of local government that works with federal law-enforcement officials to prevent and control crime.

RHS Students Collect for the Homeless

By Amber Nicole Long, Romulus High School student

Most people think of athletics when they hear the title, Mega League. However, the Mega League is much more than sports. Within the Mega League is a very active student activities division. The Mega League West Division (to which Romulus High School belongs) is composed of 14 high schools from Wayne and Monroe counties. The high schools meet approximately once per month to plan activities that would benefit communities, schools, and students.

On Saturday, January 24, 1998, the Mega League West Division will host its first annual "Mega Difference Day" throughout the 14 communities within the West Division. Each school has chosen a service project to perform on this day. Romulus High School students will scavenge the City for toiletries (soap, toothbrushes, mouthwash, toothpaste, combs, shampoo, deodorant, etc.) – as well as other useful items such as clothing and blankets – to donate to homeless shelters. Check your drawers and cupboards for all those sample-size products that you picked up during your last hotel/motel or hospital stay; they fit nicely in a homeless person's pocket. Whether full-size or sample-size, the items you donate can help us to make a difference on January 24, 1998.

We will be coming through the Castle Drive subdivision, the Oakbrook subdivision, the Halecreek subdivision, and the subdivision across from the High School between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon on Saturday, January 24. You may leave your donations on the front porch, or we'll ring your bell with a friendly reminder. If you have a donation but do not live in our pickup area, please call the Project Serve office at Romulus High School (942-2170,

Amber Nicole Long

ext. 809) – or bring it directly to us when we set up our simulated homeless society on the front lawn of the High School (anytime after 5 p.m. on Saturday through noon on Sunday). □

Guest Commentary

The ATM Conspiracy: Double Charging

By John F. Freeman, State Representative, 34th District

Every day, tens of thousands of people and businesses across Michigan use automatic teller machines (ATMs) to deposit and withdraw their money. With both spouses working, the ATM provides a modern banking service that's hard for middle-class people to live without.

Since April of 1996, in order to withdraw money from an ATM, a consumer has to pay two fees! I believe that this second fee, called a surcharge fee, is excessive and unreasonably takes advantage of the consumer who has little choice but to use an ATM. I have therefore introduced legislation, called the ATM Consumer Protection Act, that will prohibit banks from levying this fee.

The ATM is convenient for the consumer because it's open 24 hours, and banks like them because it is less expensive to own and operate them than to hire and pay a human teller. Over the last 10 years, banks have built up a large ATM network and have encouraged consumers to use it. With the rise of the ATM network, banks have reduced the number of tellers and have closed down many bank branches.

Up until April of 1996, banks charged only an interchange fee (used to cover the cost of ATMs and the transaction) to those individuals who used an ATM that was owned and operated by another institution. Beginning that month, however, banks began charging a surcharge fee as well. Since the ATM network was substantially built by then, the only purpose behind banks charging a second fee is to make very large profits, knowing full well that middle-class people and families have very little choice but to use an ATM to do their banking.

According to the U.S. Government Accounting Office, revenue from surcharge fees levied since April of 1996 has increased 360%. In fact, the Public Interest Research Group estimates that banks will receive $1.9 billion in surcharge fees this year. Consumers, on average, pay $155 per year in surcharge fees, with families paying even more. Surcharge fees range from $1 to $3.50, and sometimes are even higher. Middle-class families are struggling to make ends meet, even with today's economy. They do not need to be paying double fees just to take their own hard-earned money out of an ATM!

Big banks are charging high surcharge fees as a tactic to drive small community banks and credit unions out of business. Since community banks and credit unions do not have the assets to build large numbers of ATMs, their customers generally have to use the ATMs of large banks and therefore have to pay the surcharge fees. Large banks tell these irate people that if they want to avoid paying the surcharge, they should just move their accounts to the big banks which do not charge such a fee to their own customers. If enough people move their accounts, small community banks and credit unions will not survive. This practice by big banks is anti-free market and will eliminate competition, which will further hurt consumers because, without competition, there is nothing to keep big banks from charging even higher fees for their services.

My ATM Consumer Protection Act will stop banks from levying the surcharge fee. Michigan will join the states of Iowa and Connecticut, which have already prohibited such fees. I understand paying a reasonable fee to cover the cost of the service, but I do not think it is appropriate to charge two fees.

Double dipping by big banks hurts middle-class families, small businesses, and farmers; warps the free market; and eliminates competition. Michigan families need to be protected against the greed of big banks and other ATM operators. My legislation will protect consumers from being overwhelmed with fees when they are simply trying to withdraw their own money.

Bennett Will Introduce Bill Banning Human Cloning

State Senator Loren Bennett (R-Canton Township) has announced he will introduce a bill making it illegal in Michigan to clone people.

Bennett's measure is being introduced in response to a recent announcement which was made by a Chicago scientist who said that he will attempt to clone human beings within the next two years.

"While the cloning of sheep is now a reality, this procedure is far too dangerous to duplicate on human beings," the Senator stated. "There is too great a risk — not only of failure, but to human life — if the cloning of people is allowed.

"In addition, this raises huge ethical questions that are far from being answered in many people's minds," he continued.

According to researchers, the sheep-cloning procedure was attempted 277 times before it was successful.

Bennett said he plans to introduce his bill when the Legislature returns later this month.

"We need to protect life in all its natural beauty, not create an artificial life born of high-tech medical wizardry," he said. □

Holiday Safe and Sober Program a Local Success

Although the holidays were happy for millions of Michigan residents, law-enforcement and health-care officials were saddened to report that this season's Statewide efforts to curb drinking and driving deaths didn't equal last year's success. In 1996, there were no alcohol-related fatalities during the holiday season; in 1997, however, a total of 11 people were killed over Christmas and 18 over New Year's, with more than half of the New Year's crashes involving alcohol.

"The New Year's Day crash on US-23 near Ann Arbor provides ample evidence that more needs to be done to convince motorists to comply with traffic safety laws," said Executive Lieutenant Eric D. Painter of the Romulus Police Department. "With more than 200,000 motorists predicted to be driving under the influence of alcohol during this past holiday period, it's no surprise that a crash like this might occur."

In that crash, a drunk driver lost control of his vehicle, swerved across the median, flew into the air, and landed on top of a Grand Prix which had been transporting four young men home to Brighton from Kalamazoo. Three of the Grand Prix passengers were killed; a fourth is in critical condition.

"Locally, we put out 20 hours of additional patrol time as part of our department's commitment to the Statewide 'Safe & Sober' initiative," Painter said. "As a result, our department arrested one driver for Operating Under the Influence (OUIL) and four for Driving while Suspended, and also issued 30 other citations for speed, seat belts, and other moving violations.

"We also continued to take enforcement actions during our regular patrols," he continued. "Our department arrested over 20 people for OUIL during the two-week enforcement wave, including three drivers on the night of New Year's Eve.

"Locally, we were pleased to report no fatalities or serious-injury accidents during the holiday period," said Painter. "We always hope that an injury- or death-free holiday signals lasting traffic-safety success. Unfortunately, that isn't usually the case, since some motorists continue to drink and drive, speed, and fail to wear safety belts."

Michigan Safe & Sober is a continuing-education and enforcement program funded by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning, which seeks to reduce traffic-related deaths and injuries by targeting the State's highest crash areas. Enforcement takes place during highly traveled holiday periods, with special emphasis on safety belts, speed, alcohol violations, and aggressive drivers.

The remaining enforcement waves will take place over the Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and Labor Day holiday periods. The Romulus Police Department will be putting out 20 hours of additional patrol during each of the remaining enforcement waves. □

Students Raise Money for Helping Hand Thrift Shop

In what has become an annual holiday event, students and other volunteers – working under the direction of Romulus Middle School industrial arts teacher Frank Zarzycki – built and sold a number of beautifully crafted wagons to raise funds for the Helping Hand Thrift Shop in Romulus. Here, Middle School students present a check for $1,000 to the Helping Hand's director, Florence Klein (second from left), and one of her volunteers, Phyllis Bolus (far left).

Service-learning Students Research Homelessness

Under the direction of Romulus High School's Project SERVE director, Kathy Hurst (left), and instructor Phyllis Wilkerson (center), students interviewed Nikki Nealy (right), author of the soon-to-be-produced play about the homeless, Ms. Flossy and Friends.

Harvard University's Dr. Coles once said, "Homelessness is not a natural disaster; it is a national disaster." That's what Romulus High School students are learning as they research the topic of homelessness.

The students are particularly interested in the subject because they are currently involved in "homelessness awareness" projects throughout the community as part of their humanities/independent-studies classes. These projects include a community-wide "scavenger hunt" to gather toiletries and other necessities for the homeless (see page 1), as well as spending a night in a mock homeless community, which will be set up on the front lawn of the High School on Saturday, January 24.

As part of their research, students met with and interviewed Nikki Nealy and L.A. Shelby, writer and director (respectively) of Ms. Flossy and Friends, a play about the homeless which will be performed at the Clarion Inn on Friday, February 20 (see below). Nealy shared stories and testimonials about the fact that any of us could become homeless at any time. Her words inspired students to pursue their projects in an effort to create an awareness that homelessness is everywhere. □

Cory Food Drive Shows That Students "Can" Do

Collecting the most cans of food in Ms. Miller's fifth-grade class were (from left) Jimmy Gervel, Kim Wilson, Kevin DuFord, Danny Shinn, and Monika Burgess.

When members of the Cory Student Council wanted to plan a school activity that would make other people happy, they decided to collect canned food and give their collection to the Romulus Helping Hand Thrift Shop. Student Council Advisor Gayle Milspaugh agreed with the students, but knew that, to be successful, a lot of work would be required.

"At our meeting, I told them that their idea had merit – but, to be successful, the Council would have to work very hard," said Milspaugh. "That is just what they did."

The drive started in late November of 1997 with a "Food Basket Dance." Each student attending the dance had to donate two cans of food to the drive. The Student Council was well on its way to a successful project.

Further incentives included a gigantic wall mural showing the number of cans each class had contributed, and a guarantee that every class donating 100 cans of food would receive a pizza party. Six classes exceeded the 100-can mark and received a pizza party on December 19.

Ms. Miller, the fifth-grade teacher for the class that collected the most cans (429), spoke for the class when she said, "The students enjoyed the competition, but their enjoyment was tempered by their realization of its grim necessity: namely, the fact that many people go hungry every day."

"They worked hard, and I am proud of their accomplishment," concluded Miller.

Miller's students used the collected cans for various learning activities in their classroom before sending them to the cafeteria, where they were stored before being sent to the Helping Hand Thrift Shop. □

LEAPFROG

Write the word(s) that fits definition #1 into the correspondingly numbered box. Next, drop one letter and anagram (rearrange) the remaining letters to find the answer to definition #2. Perform the same drop-a-letter/anagram procedure on word #2 to arrive at the answer to definition #3. Place the first dropped letter in the space to the left of answer #1 and the second in the space to the right of answer #3. Repeat this process on each line of the puzzle. Air Bag Switch Applications Available From AAA

Motorists wanting government permission to have air-bag on/off switches installed can find application forms and educational material at AAA Michigan offices.

"The on/off switch preserves the safety value of air bags while offering protection for the few people at risk from air-bag deployment," said AAA Michigan Community Safety Services Manager Jerry Basch. "The decision to have switches installed should only be made after careful consideration of the facts."

In November, the Federal government announced that motorists "fitting certain risk profiles" would be allowed to have switches installed to temporarily disable air bags. Before the switches can be installed, motorists must apply for and receive authorization from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The government began processing applications on December 18. January 19 was the first day that switches could be installed.

To get government approval for switch installation, motorists must pledge at least one of the following:

- cannot avoid placing rear-facing infant seats in the front passenger seat;
- have a medical condition that places them at specific risk;
- cannot adjust their position to keep back approximately 10 inches from the air bag;
- cannot avoid situations – such as a car pool – that require a child 12 or under to ride in the front seat.

Air bags are credited with saving

2,600 lives. They also have been implicated in 87 deaths. In most of the related fatalities, the person killed was improperly restrained or positioned too close to the air bags.

AAA reminds motorists that the safest place for children to ride is in the back seat, even in vehicles not equipped with air bags.

"For children, the key to air-bag safety is to be restrained properly in the back seat," Basch said. "For adults, the key is to be restrained properly with a safety zone of at least 10 inches between their chest and the air bag." □

EIC Eligibility

You can apply for an Earned Income Credit on your 1997 income tax return if yours is a family: making less than $25,760; having one qualifying child who lives with you at least half the year; and having at least one worker in the household. To apply for the credit, you must file a federal income tax form (Form 1040A or 1040) along with Schedule EIC.

If you do not have a qualifying child, are aged 25 to 64, and your income is less than $9,500, your EIC could be as much as $332. □

Wedding Wise

Let Your Treasure Give New Pleasure

By Marjean

You spent many hours selecting the "right" gown for your special day – your wedding! You not only picked the perfect gown, but had the alteration mistress take it in or let it out to make it a perfect fit. The color, texture, intricate lace pattern – all were decided by you after spending many hours leafing through tons of wedding books and then trying on many styles at the local stores – just to find the "right" gown that you simply could not live without. But, now that the big day has come and gone, what to do with this perfect gown?

- Have the gown cleaned at a cleaners that specializes in wedding dresses and their preservation.
- Think about passing the dress down to your daughter as part of a family tradition.
- If you decide not to keep your dress, think about placing it with a consignment shop. You will not only share your dress with another happy bride, but you will also earn extra money! Now, isn't that better than hanging it in a closet or storing it in a box under the bed?

- When you decide to take your gown to a consignment shop, make certain that the gown is in good condition and cleaned. The shop will display your gown and give its clients the opportunity of having a "perfect" wedding in a "perfect" gown, just as you had.

For information on consigning your wedding gown, call 734-722-7400. □

Lunch at Leon's

The Romulus Senior Center's van will be traveling to Leon's for lunch on Friday, January 30, at 11 a.m. Cost is $1.50 for transportation plus the price of your meal.

Speaking of Transportation ...

Seniors who reside in the Romulus Tower or Whispering Willows apartment buildings will find that participating in the Senior Center's Friday trips is more convenient than ever. That's because the Center has begun making passenger pickups at both of these locations as well as at the Center. Cost is still only $1.50 for most trips.

Craft Classes

The Center's weekly craft classes will resume in February, and a number of projects have already been planned to get your creative juices flowing! For more information, check the February 6 issue of "the little paper" or call the Center.

Haircuts

Senior citizens can come into the Romulus Senior Center for $5 haircuts on the second Monday of each month beginning at 1 p.m. (next date: February 9). Walk-ins are always welcome, but, for your own convenience, the Center recommends calling ahead for an appointment. Note: Since "shampoo" facilities are not available, seniors must arrive with clean hair.

Keep Your Vow To Keep Your Health

If you're trying to stick to your New Year's resolution to take better care of yourself, the Romulus Senior Center can help. Exercise under the direction of Richard Simmons' Silver Foxes video (contact the Center for information about days and times), or stride your way to fitness by participating in the Center's indoor walking club, which meets each Wednesday at 9 a.m. And don't forget to take advantage of the Center's free, semimonthly blood-pressure checks, performed at 1 p.m. on the first and third Monday of each month by the folks from Gran Care Home Health.

Commodities Available at the Center

The Romulus Senior Center will be distributing commodities to qualified individuals on the third Thursday of each month from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Preregistration (Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; bring proof of income) is required. Next date: February 19.
